

Press release

XANEDA.COM - new business network with a regional focus

08-19-2024 10:16 AM CET | Business, Economy, Finances, Banking & Insurance

Press release from: xaneda.com

XANEDA is a business network with a regional focus for the acquisition and maintenance of business contacts, the exchange of specialist topics within groups and at events, as well as for the presentation of a company's products and services. The personal exchange of ideas and opinions, joint activities and active partnerships at regional level are at the heart of XANEDA. We want to bring members together not only virtually, but also in real life.

Membership of XANEDA requires registration. The free (basic) membership has limited functionalities in contrast to the paid premium membership.

XANEDA can only be accessed via common browsers at the URL <https://www.xaneda.com> and can be installed as a Progressive Web App (PWA) on a mobile device. XANEDA supports various languages.

XANEDA has been available since 2023 and the platform currently has almost 700 members. In recent months, numerous offers have been made available to these members, with a focus on "hiking and business".

XANEDA offers the following functionalities in detail:

Profile

Registered users create a professional profile containing information such as work experience, education, skills and interests. References support the entries. However, there is no obligation to complete the profile with all fields. The profile is used to present yourself to other users of the platform such as potential employers, business partners or colleagues.

Messages

Registered users can send messages to other users. Attachments can be added to the messages.

Contacts

XANEDA makes it possible to establish contacts with other professionals and build up a personal network. These contacts can result from common interests, professional activities or recommendations.

Posts

Registered users can create posts which, depending on their visibility, then appear either in the "newsfeed" on the user's personal start page or as a post for a group or an organization. Several photos or a video can be added to the textual content of a post Posts can be commented on. All comments appear below the post and can be commented on again by other users. This creates discussions and an exchange on a topic.

Groups

The various groups at XANEDA are a good opportunity to discuss current or specialist topics, common interests, new projects, social or regional issues. In XANEDA groups, members can publish content and thus be perceived as experts, come into contact with other XANEDA members, position themselves as employers and enhance their reputation.

The regional focus is achieved via regional groups (hubs), in which content, events and professional offers can also be posted by external providers with a regional focus.

Members of a group can create posts, and the posts can be organized thematically in forums.

Groups can create events for their members and invite them via email. Members can exchange ideas with other members at these events and make new contacts.

Events

XANEDA offers members an easy way to create and participate in professional events, such as meetings, online workshops or seminars. Organizers can grow their business through events, participants can network with others at these events and gain new knowledge. Groups can create events for their members and invite them, companies can invite their followers.

Once the participant has accepted an invitation to an event, they can access a list of members attending that event to contact other participants and invite them to network.

In the case of paid events, payment for the ticket can be processed via a payment service provider; various payment options

(e.g. credit card) are available for this purpose.

Companies

XANEDA offers interested companies (and organizations) an area in which they can publish content. In order not to miss any content, a company can be followed (Follower). Companies can create events and invite their followers to them.

Job

XANEDA offers companies the opportunity to publish job vacancies. Members of the platform can search for vacancies.

Contact person:

Joerg-Alexander Stoehr
info@xaneda.com

Website:

<https://www.xaneda.com>

xanders GmbH
Hedwig-Dransfeld-Strasse 15
60487 Frankfurt am Main
Germany
Mr. Jörg-Alexander Stöhr

069/7073311
069/7073312
info@xaneda.com
<https://www.xaneda.com>

XANEDA is a business network with a regional focus for acquiring and maintaining business contacts, exchanging professional topics within groups and at events, and presenting a company's products and services.

This release was published on openPR.

Please set a link in the press area of your homepage to this press release on openPR. openPR disclaims liability for any content contained in this release.
